Re: Dean's Sabbatical and Communication Plan

Dear PB Sci faculty, staff, and researchers:

I wanted to let you know that I will be on sabbatical through January 2019. Associate Dean David Belanger has agreed to serve as acting dean while I am on sabbatical. David's appointment begins in January 2018 and extends through December 2018.

In order to better manage communications for the dean's office, we have created a new email account for official communication to the dean. Please send all correspondence intended for David in his official capacity as acting dean to pbsci.dean@ucsc.edu. We will maintain this functional account for all correspondence intended for the PB Sci dean once I return. Professional and personal communications can still be sent to our UCSC email addresses: Paul Koch (plkoch@ucsc.edu) and David Belanger (daveph@ucsc.edu).

In keeping with our new communications plan, please note the new general PB Sci dean's office phone number (831) 502-8190.

I would like to thank David for his service as associate dean since 2012 and for agreeing to step into this role in my absence.

Sincerely,

Paul L. Koch
